

Getting Students to Think Critically through Undergraduate Research

The Human Religious Experience
(RELI 100)

Susan E. Bond

Faculty Lunch & Learn

March 3, 2016

Research

“The systematic investigation into and study of materials and sources in order to establish facts and reach new conclusions.” [1]

Course Design: Situated Learning

The nest, the frame, the “situation”

Assignments: Critical Thinking

Contextualize

Make it yours

Co-Construct/Collaborate

“Communities of practice” facilitate learning [2]

1. Synthesize Sources
2. Apply Critical Thinking
3. Contextualize
4. Co-Construct/Collaborate

Blogs: Reflection

- Myth, Symbol, Modernity
- Interpreting Scripture: Literally, Morally, Allegorically
- Symbols and Rituals of Succoth
- Christian Sacrament and Jewish Life-Passage Ritual
- Sermon Analysis
- Qur'an and Hajj
- Dalai Lama and Lotus Sutra

Myth, Symbol, Modernity

Sources:

Mini-lecture: Symbol

Mini-lecture: Impact of Modernity

Textbook: World Religions Today

Critical Thinking: Research ads. Identify one with a religious symbol used to sell a product. Analyze in light of the discussion of symbol in the sources.

Contextualize: Reflect on the use of religious symbols in advertising.

Co-Construct: Comment on other posts.

We'll save you.

Discussion Groups: Construct Knowledge

- Writing and Citing
- The Global Religious Landscape
- Jewish Identity
- Constructing Knowledge about Sunni and Shia Islam
- Cleansing Rituals
- The Ramayana
- Four Noble Truths and the Eightfold Path
- Harmony and Liberation
- Confucianism and Daoism

The Four Noble Truths and the Eightfold Path

Religion 100: Venerable Losang Tendrol, Four Noble Truths and Eightfold Path

from GMU-TV Courses PRO

What is the most important thing you would say to someone outside the tradition about Buddhism?

<https://vimeo.com/channels/religion100/110465597>

The Ramayana

Sources:

Mini-lecture: The Ramayana

Film: Sita Sings the Blues

Book: World Religions Today

Evaluating a modern version of an ancient epic.

Final Essay: Articulate Your Worldview

Ultimate goal: “growth and transformation of identity” [3]

Student Response

“I absolutely had a lovely experience taking this course. I learned a lot in a very organized, interesting, and engaging manner. The instructor provided fun videos, interesting lectures, and collaborative assignments that made it seem as though I was taking the course in person.”

Endnotes

[1] Google Search. Available at <https://www.google.com/#q=research>

[2] Smith, M. K. (2003). “Communities of Practice.” The Encyclopedia of Informal Education. Available at www.infed.org/biblio/communities_of_practice.htm.

[3] Yang, Yu-Feng (Diana). (2005). “Situated Learning as a Framework for CALL Research.” In CALL Research Perspectives, Joy L. Egbert and Gina Mikel Petrie. Mahwah, NJ: Lawrence Erlbaum Associates.