

The Innovations in Teaching & Learning (ITL) Conference was conceived by the former Center for Teaching and Faculty Excellence—now Stearns Center for Teaching and Learning—in 2009 as a way through which faculty, staff, and graduate students at George Mason University could share their teaching and learning insights with colleagues across disciplines. Each year, a new theme is selected based on relevant teaching and learning issues, with invited keynotes highlighting the conference theme.

CONFERENCE PARTICIPANTS»

based on 2021 data*

over 800 registered in 2021

“...gave me ideas that I can apply to my classes...allowed me to interact with a broad range of colleagues...answered so many questions about what strategies are effective...really made me think about how all our students are different...very inspiring...highly applicable to my teaching...”

internal 87%

external 13%

1 in every 6 attendees identified as a graduate student

PREVIOUS KEYNOTE SPEAKERS»

Badrul Khan
2009

Marianne Bakia
2009

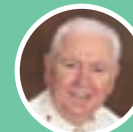

Michael Wesch
2010

Rob Baird
2011

Paul Rogat Loeb
2011

Stephen Brookfield
2012

Susan Ambrose
2013

José Bowen
2014

Todd Zakrajsek
2015

Alison James
2016

Kentaro Toyama
2017

Sandra McGuire
2018

Lisa Nunn
2019

Bryan Alexander
2020

Tia Brown McNair
2021

GROWTH 2009-2021»

more than 1,000 unique attendees over 10 years

- College of Education and Human Development ●
- College of Health and Human Services ●
- College of Humanities and Social Sciences ●
- College of Science ●
- College of Visual and Performing Arts ●
- INTO Mason ●
- Schar School of Policy and Government ●
- School for Conflict Analysis and Resolution ●
- School of Business ●
- Volgenau School of Engineering ●
- Non-Mason ●
- Unspecified ●

